

Troilus and Cressida.

As false as Cressida.

Pand. Go too, a bargain made: seale it, seale it, Ile be the witness here I hold your hand: here my Cousins, ifeuer you proue false one to another, since I haue taken such paines to bring you together, let all pittifull goers betweene be cal'd to the worlds end after my name: call them all Panders; let all constant men be Troylusses, all false women Cressids, and all brokers betweene, Panders: say, Amen.

Troy. Amen.

Cress. Amen.

Pand. Amen.

Whereupon I will shew you a Chamber, which bed, because it shall not speake of your prettie encounters, presse it to death: away.

And Cupid grant all, tongue-tide Maidens heere, Bed, Chamber, and Pander, to provide this geere. Exeunt.

Enter Ulysses, Diomedes, Nestor, Agamemnon, Menelaus and Chalcas. Flourish.

Cal. Now Princes for the seruice I haue done you, Th'advantage of the time prompts me aloud, To call for recompence: appeare it to your minde, That through the fight I beare in things to loue, I haue abandon'd Troy, left my possession, Incur'd a Traitors name, expos'd my selfe, From certaine and posselt conueniences, To doubtfull fortunes, sequestering from me all That time, acquaintance, custome and condition, Made tame, and most familiar to my nature: And here to doe you seruice am become, As new into the world, strange, vnacquainted, I doe beseech you, as in way of taste, To giue me now a little benefit: Out of those many registred in promise, Which you say, liue to come in my behalfe.

Agam. What wouldst thou of vs Trojan? make demand?

Cal. You haue a Trojan prisoner, call'd Antenor, Yesterday tooke: Troy holds him very deere. Oft haue you (often haue you, thanks therefore) Desir'd my Cressida in right great exchange, Whom Troy hath still deni'd: but this Antenor, I know is such a wrest in their affaires, That their negotiations all must slacke, Wanting his mannage: and they will almost, Giue vs a Prince of blood, a Sonne of Priam, In change of him. Let him be sent great Princes, And he shall buy my Daughter: and her presence, Shall quite strike off all seruice I haue done, In most accepted paine.

Agam. Let Diomedes beare him, And bring vs Cressida hither: Calcas shall haue What he requests of vs: good Diomed Furnish you fairly for this entercange; Withall bring word, if Hector will to morrow Be answer'd in his challenge. Ajax is ready.

Dio. This shall I undertake, and 'tis a burthen Which I am proud to beare. Exit.

Enter Achilles and Patroclus in their Tent. Ulyss. Achilles stands i'th entrance of his Tent; Please it our Generall to passe strangely by him, As if he were forgot: and Princes all, Lay negligent and loose regard vpon him; I will come last, 'tis like heele question me,

Why such vnplausiue eyes are bent? why turn'd on him? If so, I haue derision medicinable,

To vse betweene your strangeness and his pride, Which his owne will shall haue desire to drinke; It may doe good, pride hath no other glasse To show it selfe, but pride: for supple knees, Feede arrogance, and are the proud mans fees.

Agam. Weele execute your purpose, and put on A forme of strangeness as we passe along, So doe each Lord, and either greete him not, Or else disdainfully, which shall shake him more, Then if not lookt on. I will lead the way.

Achil. What comes the Generall to speake with me? You know my minde, Ile fight no more 'gainst Troy.

Agam. What saies Achilles, would he ought with vs?

Nes. Would you my Lord ought with the Generall?

Achil. No.

Nes. Nothing my Lord.

Agam. The better.

Achil. Good day, good day.

Men. How doe you? how doe you?

Achil. What, doe's the Cuckold scorne me?

Ajax. How now Patroclus?

Achil. Good morrow Ajax?

Ajax. Ha.

Achil. Good morrow.

Ajax. I, and good next day too. Exeunt.

Achil. What meane these fellows? know they not Achilles?

Patr. They passe by strangely: they were vs'd to bend To send their smiles before them to Achilles:

To come as humbly as they vs'd to creepe to holy Altars.

Achil. What am I pouer of late?

'Tis certaine, greatness once false out with fortune,

Must fall out with me too: what the declin'd is,

He shall as soone reade in the eyes of others,

As feeble in his owne fall: for men like butter-flies,

Shew not their mealeie wings, but to the Summer:

And not a man for being simply man,

Hath any honour; but honour'd for those honours

That are without him, as place, riches, and fauour,

Prizes of accident, as oft as merit:

Which when they fall, as being slippery standers;

The loue that leand on them as slippery too,

Doth one plucke downe another, and together

Dye in the fall. But 'tis not so with me;

Fortune and I are friends, I doe enjoy

At ample point, all that I did possesse,

Save these mens looks: who do me thinkes finde out

Something not worth in me such rich beholding,

As they haue often giuen. Here is Ulysses,

He interrupt his reading: how now Ulysses?

Ulyss. Now great Thetis Sonne.

Achil. What are you reading?

Ulyss. A strange fellow here

Writes me, that man, how dearely euer parted,

How much in hauing, or without, or in,

Cannot make boast to haue that which he hath;

Nor fees not what he owes, but by reflection:

As when his vertues shining vpon others,

Heate them, and they report that heate againe

To the first giuer.

Achil. This is not strange Ulysses:

The beautie that is borne here in the face,

The bearer knowes not, but commends it selfe,

Nor going from it selfe: but eye to eye oppos'd,

Salutes

Troilus and Cressida.

Salutes each other with each others forme: For speculation turnes not to it selfe, Till it hath trauail'd, and is married there Where it may see it selfe: this is not strange at all.

Ulyss. I doe not straine it at the position,

It is familiar; but at the Authors drift,

Who in his circumstance, expressly proues

That no may is the Lord of any thing,

(Though in and of him there is much consisting,)

Till he communicate his parts to others:

Nor doth he of himselfe know them for ought,

Till he behold them formed in th'applause,

Where they are extended: who like an arch reuerb'rate

The voyce againe; or like a gace of Steele,

Fronting the Sunne, receiues and renders backe

His figure, and his heate. I was much rapt in this,

And apprehended here immediately:

The vnknowne Ajax;

Heauens what a man is there? a very Horse, (are

That he knowes not what, Nature, what things there

Most abiect in regard, and deare in vse.

What things againe most deere in the esteeme,

And poore in worth: now shall we see to morrow,

An act that very chance doth throw vpon him?

Ajax renown'd? O heauens, what some men doe,

While some men leaue to doe!

How some men creepe in skittish fortunes hall,

While others play the Ideots in her eyes:

How one man eates into anothers pride,

While pride is feasting in his wantonnesse

To see these Grecian Lords; why, euen already,

They clasp the lubber Ajax on the shoulder,

As if his foote were on braue Hectors brest,

And great Troy shrinking.

Achil. I doe beleue it:

For they pass by me, as my selfe doe by beggars,

Neither gaue to me good word, nor looke:

What are my deedes forgot?

Ulyss. Time hath (my Lord) a wallet at his backe,

Wherein he puts almes for obliuion:

A great siz'd monster of ingratitude:

Those scraps are good deedes past,

Which are deuour'd as fast as they are made,

Forgot as soone as done: perseuerance, deere my Lord,

Keeps honor bright, to haue done, is to hang

Quite out of fashion, like a rustie male,

In monumentall mockrie: take the instant way,

For honour travels in a straight so narrow,

Where one but goes a breack, keepe then the path:

For emulation hath a thousand Sonnes,

That one by one pursue; if you giue way,

Or hedge aside from the direct forth right;

Like to an entred Tyde, they all rush by,

And leaue you hindmost:

Or like a gallant Horse false in first ranke,

Lye there for pauement to the abiect, neere

Ore-run and trampled on: then what they doe in present,

Though lesse then yours in past, must ore-top yours:

For time is like a fashionable Hoste,

That slightly shakes his parting Guest by th'hand;

And with his armes out-stretcht, as he would flye,

Grasps in the comber: the welcome euer smiles,

And farewells goes out sighing: O let not vertue seeke

Remuneration for the thing it was: for beautie, wit,

High birth, vigor of bone, desert in seruice,

Love, friendship, charity, are subiects all
